

Court Exempts Pinebrook From County, Township Taxes

PRESIDENT JUDGE Fred W. Davis yesterday ruled that the Pinebrook Bible Conference property in Stroud Township is exempt from county and township taxes.

The court issued an injunction against county and township authorities restraining them from collecting taxes levied against the property for 1948 or for any year thereafter.

The injunction is to remain in effect "so long as the title to the said property remains under the condition under which it is now held and is used in the manner and for the purposes it is now held and used."

In handing down his decision, Judge Davis acted in favor of Pinebrook Foundation, Inc., headed by Rev. Percy B. Crawford, well-known radio and television minister and youth leader.

Board Rejected Plea

Dr. Crawford sought an injunction against the Monroe County commissioners and the Stroud Township tax collector and assessor, after the county board rejected his plea that Pinebrook's real estate be exempted from taxation.

Township officials assessed the property $857.85 in 1948 for county road, poor and school purposes. The following year, the township sought $921.06 in taxes and penalties.

However, the court concluded:

Public Charity

(1) That Pinebrook Foundation, Inc. is a non-profit corporation and a purely public charity within the meaning of the Constitution of Pennsylvania.

(2) That the real estate of the plaintiff is not a proper subject for taxation by Monroe County, the County Institution District, Stroud Township or its school district.

(3) That the real estate of the plaintiff is exempt from taxation by these political subdivisions or authorities.

Atty. Leo Achtermann, the county's new solicitor, said last night that he would discuss the court's ruling at Monday's meeting of the county commissioners. He withheld further comment until that time.

The defendants had based their arguments on two points:

Campers Pay Fee

(1) That in order to be a public charity, a group had to be engaged in some activity which assumed a share of the public burden. Since Pinebrook's purpose was to teach the Bible, it could not be said that the plaintiff was helping to relieve this burden.

(2) That since campers paid a weekly fee, they could not be classified as recipients of charity.

In reaching his decision, Judge Davis noted that the plaintiff based his claim for exemption from taxation on two grounds: (1) That the lands of the foundation are used as a stated place of public worship and (2) that the plaintiff is a purely public charity.

"It might be said that the activities of the plaintiff constitute the modern development of the early camp meeting and there is authority that the lands of camp meeting associations are exempt from taxation," the court wrote.

"However, we will not rest exemption from taxation on this ground."

The jurist observed that a claimant must bring itself clearly within the statute. The institution must not be devoted to private gain or profit. And it must provide services which the recipients cannot provide for themselves.

Judge Davis noted that, by the terms of its charter and by-laws, no individual member of the Pinebrook Foundation, Inc., may obtain any personal gain from the operation of the corporation.

Nor may any individual obtain personal gain from the distribution of the capital assets, he wrote. In the event of liquidation of the corporation the assets go to other non-profit organizations.

Judge Davis said further: "The testimony is undisputed, (1) that all monies received are used to carry out the objectives and purposes of the corporation, (2) that the facilities are available to all regardless of race, creed or color, (3) that the corporate facilities are offered at a much lower rate than comparable facilities are offered by private corporations for profit, even much lower than some other tax exempt non-profit corporations similarly engaged in the county."

Supported By Donations

Moreover, the court noted that the cost of operation is supported by public contributions and donated services either without cost or less than the going price for such services.

Guests pay only the bare cost of food and lodging, the court found. Moreover, the intensive training is given without charge and the foundation's 153 acres are used in the furtherance of its purposes.

Eisenhower Responding To Florida Sun

KEY WEST, Fla., Jan. 6 (P)—The word from President Eisenhower's doctor today was that the President is getting "a world of good" out of a Florida visit intended to condition him for resumption of a full work load.

The report was relayed to newsmen by the White House physician, Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder, who has been with Eisenhower since the party arrived from Washington Dec. 28.

The President, recuperating from a September heart attack, came to Key West after his doctors recommended that he get more sun and outdoor exercise.

They wanted to get that in before he takes on about a normal work load after his return to Washington. The present plan is for the President to leave here by plane for the capital Sunday afternoon.

World of Good

Newsmen today asked James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, for his views on how the Florida sun may have benefited Eisenhower. Hagerty's reply was that Dr. Snyder believes the stay is doing the President "a world of good."

The visit could be an important factor in Eisenhower's decision on whether to seek a second term.

As on most other days here, the President today mixed some work with relaxation. He turned up at his office at 8:40 a.m. and spent two hours with Secretary of Agriculture Benson going over the special farm message to be sent to Congress Monday.

Hagerty reported the two men, plus a staff of White House and Agriculture Department aides, virtually completed work on the message.

U. S. Bills Russia For Downed Plane

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (P)—For shooting down one U. S. plane . . . $1,449,895.36.

Less 50 per cent discount due to special circumstances . . . $724,947.68.

Total due . . . $724,947.68.

That was the bill handed to Soviet Russia by the United States today for the shooting down in flames of a two-engine Neptune patrol plane over the Bering Sea last June 22.

All 11 crew members suffered injuries ranging from bullet wounds to burns and shock. Seven required hospital treatment.

Blamed Each Other

Russia and the United States blamed each other for the incident. Secretary of State Dulles accepted Russia's offer to pay half the damages while "not condoning the illegality of the Soviet conduct."

Preparations were under way at the time for the July summit conference of Big Four powers in Geneva, and Dulles' acceptance of the Russian offer was viewed as an effort to smooth the path. Sen. Aiken (R-Vt.) called it a desire to create "as friendly an atmosphere as possible" for the Big Four meeting.

In making the Russian offer last June 26, Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov cited heavy cloud conditions which made visibility poor. He said this did not "exclude the possibility of a mistake from one side or the other."

Molotov insisted the U. S. plane was inside Soviet territory and opened fire when approached by Russian jet fighters. He expressed regret at the incident.

Denies Violation

The State Department denied the American plane had violated the Russian frontier, maintaining it at no time was any closer to Russia than midway over the Bering Sea channel which separates Alaska from Russia. It crash-landed on St. Lawrence Island.

In today's note containing the bill, the United States repeated its contention that the attack was unprovoked.

Red China Refuses Early Release Of 13 Americans

LONDON, Jan. 6 (P)—Red China shunted aside today U. S. State Department efforts to speed the release of 13 Americans still in Chinese jails.

A government statement broadcast by Peiping radio said the Mao Tse-tung regime would deal with the Americans when and how it saw fit and "no foreign interference would be allowed."

Scorning Washington's charge that Peiping has violated a Sept. 10 agreement to free all Americans "expeditiously," the statement said:

"Americans who offended against the law in China must be dealt with in accordance with Chinese legal procedures, and no time limit can be set for their release."

Settlement Balked

The toughly worded declaration dampened hopes in London that the Chinese Reds would smooth the way to a Far East settlement through prompt release of the remaining Americans in prison. U. S. Secretary of State Dulles has made it plain that release of the Americans must come before the United States will enter into any agreement with Red China on other issues dividing the two countries.

The Communist broadcast renewed Peiping's demand for an early conference between Dulles and Red China Premier-Foreign Minister Chou En-lai "to discuss relaxation and elimination of tension" in the Formosa area. It called for a speedy end to the Western embargo on shipment of strategic goods to Red China.

The statement warned the United States to move quickly toward agreement on these issues or face breakdown of the Geneva negotiations between Red China's Wang Ping-nan and U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson. The Geneva talks have been going on sporadically for five months and it was there that the Sept. 10 agreement on release of prisoners was announced.

Reply To Questionnaire

"The Chinese side will continue to work for an agreement," today's statement said. "However, the Chinese people will not consent to the endless dragging out of the Sino-American talks."

The government declaration came in the form of answers by the Foreign Ministry to a New Year questionnaire on the Johnson-Wang talks. The questionnaire was submitted by the official New China News Agency.

Latest information indicates the 13 Americans still under arrest in Red China includes Rev. Paul J. Mackensen, 30, Lutheran minister of Pittsburgh and Baltimore and several other missionaries.

The Chinese Communists again sidestepped American demands for a "no-force declaration" that would specifically guarantee peace in the Formosa Strait. Commenting on the "no-force" issue, today's Peiping broadcast said:

Held Inadequate

"If this means China and the United States should, in accordance with the purpose and principles of the U. N. Charter, settle peacefully the disputes between their two countries without resorting to force, then there also is no reason why this question cannot be settled quickly."

The United States has said it would regard such a general "no-force" declaration as inadequate. U. S. diplomats have explained that under Communist China could invade Formosa, claiming that the international guarantee did not apply because occupation of Formosa was "an internal Chinese affair."

Dulles has insisted Red China release all American prisoners and come forward with a satisfactory "no-force" declaration before he would consent to meet with Chou En-lai.

Monroney Charges Federal Report Ignores Aviation

By Vera Haugland Associated Press Aviation Reporter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (P)—Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) charged today that a Cabinet-level report on federal transportation policy, praised by President Eisenhower yesterday, completely overlooked aviation.

Monroney, chairman of the Senate Aviation Subcommittee, said aviation is an extremely important part of the U. S. transportation picture and no general report on transportation would be complete without it.

However, a Monroney query about an "airline protest" against the report brought to light the fact that the Air Transport Assn., composed of scheduled airlines, had not expected or wanted aviation mentioned in the report. It said that subject had been covered thoroughly in another report.

Lee Not Consulted

Monroney, questioning Frederick B. Lee, recently discharged as civil aeronautics administrator, brought out that Lee had not been consulted in the preparation of the report even though, at the time, he headed the farflung Operations of the Civil Aeronautics Administration.

Monroney asked the committee counsel, Frank Pellegrini, to "begin negotiations at the summit" with the Commerce Department to find out why the transportation report failed to mention aviation.

Secretary of Commerce Weeks was chairman of the advisory committee which made the transportation report to the President last April. Monroney has declared, during the subcommittee's investigation of Lee's discharge, that Weeks and Commerce Undersecretary Louis Rothchild are "ground-minded" and tried to exercise presidential authority to fire Lee and strengthen their control of the CAA.

Dangerous Smog Lifts From London

LONDON, Jan. 6 (P)—Britain's worst fog in three years lifted from London tonight, but the smoke-laden pall still drifted over 25 English counties.

Government scientists started analyzing samples collected by 450 "smog tasters" who prowled the grimy capital yesterday to find any hidden dangers in the reeking fumes.

Britons have been specially smog-conscious since 1952, when a choking yellow fog claimed the lives of 4,000 sufferers from chest and heart diseases.

Hospitals reported the current fog, which set in three days ago, also brought an increase in breathing troubles, but nothing like the big one.

Traffic disruption, however, looked worse this time than in 1952. The fog spread wider and trains and trucks in eastern and midland districts tonight still were kept down to a crawl.

Claims Both Liable In Damage Suit

COUNSEL FOR the Citizens Gas Co. yesterday filed a writ in the prothonotary's office asking that the Stroudsburg Municipal Authority and a Weissport contracting firm be named as additional defendants in a $113,482.73 damage suit.

The suit was filed Nov. 7, 1955 by five Dreher Ave. residents. They are Fred A. Fetherman, Sheldon V. and Violet J. Newell, Nettie E. Kitchen and James Kitchen.

Seeks $30,000, Also

The plaintiffs seek to recover for personal injuries and property damages caused by an explosion that occurred last Feb. 9 at 1104 Dreher Ave.

The gas company, named as the original defendant, now wants named as additional defendants the Municipal Authority and Harry Dupue and David R. Diehl, individually and trading as Dupue and Diehl in Weissport.

According to the writ, the utility seeks to have the authority and the contractors adjudged solely or partially liable, and hopes to recover $30,000 for damages caused to its gas mains and service lines.

Atty. George T. Robinson, borough solicitor, withheld comment on the matter last night, pending further study of the utility's contentions.

Sewers Installed

Counsel for the utility noted that the contracting firm and the municipal body entered into an agreement Jan. 30, 1954, which provided for the construction of extensions to the borough's sanitary sewer system.

Pursuant to that agreement, the writ claims, the contractor undertook the installation of sewers along Dreher Ave. and W. Main, Fetherman and Stofflet Sts.

The writ alleges that the nature of the work and the manner in which it was performed resulted in the dislocation of and damage to the gas company's mains and service pipes leading from the mains to the properties of consumers.

"If the explosion of Feb. 9, 1955 that injured the plaintiffs resulted from gas escaping from the gas company's mains and service pipes," the writ further contends, "it was caused by the negligence of the contractor or the negligence of the Municipal Authority, or both of them."

Lists Own Losses

The utility also charges the mains and service pipes were "cracked, broken, punctured or otherwise damaged," and notes that it has already spent $5,000 to partially repair this damage, and will still have to expend another $25,000 to make additional repairs.

Therefore, the additional defendant requests:

(1) The Municipal Authority and the contractors be found solely liable to the plaintiffs, or that

(2) If the gas company is found liable, that the authority and contractor be ordered to indemnify the gas company for such sums as the plaintiffs shall recover, or that

(3) If the gas company and the Municipal Authority and contractor, or either of them, are found to be jointly liable to the plaintiffs, that the latter be made to contribute to the gas company their proportionate shares of such sums the utility may be required to pay the plaintiffs.

Requests Damages

Moreover, the gas company asks that the authority and the contractors be made to pay $30,000 for damages to property belonging to the utility.

Atty. Alex Bensinger, Stroudsburg, filed the petition on behalf of the gas company.

Blood Given For Treatment Of Patients

DURING THE past month the Red Cross Blood Bank has sent 70 pints of blood out of this area to hospitals in Philadelphia to help in the treatment of six Monroe County persons.

For this reason LeRoy Mikels, chairman of the Monroe bloodmobile donor program, said last night that it is "absolutely necessary" that the blood donor program be successful on Tuesday.

The mobile unit will stop at the Elks Club, East Stroudsburg, on Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. A quota of 125 pints—the normal quota—has been set for this month's visit.

All persons willing to donate a pint of blood are urged to visit the Elks building between those hours. Persons who wish to pledge a donation should contact the Red Cross or an Elks Club member.

Times Man Admits Error, Wins Praise

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (P)—Dr. Benjamin Fine, education editor of The New York Times, testified today he was a Communist party member for about a year while a graduate student at Columbia University in the 1930s.

He acknowledged he had made "a tragic mistake" and cautioned present day students against the same error.

Dr. Fine was the final witness as the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee closed out three days of public hearings into alleged Communist infiltrations of the press and other news fields.

Chairman Eastland (D-Miss) and Sen. Jenner (R-Ind) praised Dr. Fine as "a fine citizen" and a "credit to your business."

Red Penetration Attempt

When the hearings ended, Eastland and Jenner issued a joint statement in which they said the hearings "disclosed many things, including a significant effort on the part of the Communists to penetrate leading American newspapers."

Eastland and Jenner said witnesses who were frank and testified freely "performed a patriotic service for which we are grateful."

They hinted at contempt proceedings against some witnesses who refused to answer questions.

Testimony today included:

1. There was a Red cell on the New York Herald Tribune in the 1940s.

2. Two witnesses who today invoked the Fifth Amendment self-incrimination were fired by The New York Times after they indicated they would take this course.

Those who said they had lost their jobs were Nathan Aleskovsky, until recently assistant Book Review editor of the Sunday Times, and Jack Shafer, a copyreader.

Utah Governor Raps Budget Proposals

CHICAGO, Jan. 6 (P)—A Republican governor today said that, if President Eisenhower's recommendations are adopted, the budget "will be out of balance again."

Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah made that comment on the President's State of the Union message. The President said he expects the federal budget to be balanced.

Lee cited the recommendations for such federal aid proposals as those for schools and roads, and he added:

"I think the people are being fooled."

Lee, who spoke his views at a news conference and in a speech before the Executive Club, reported he is ready to formally start his personal rebellion against the federal income tax.

He said he will send in his return next week without any check but with a letter asking for action to bring his case before the U. S. Supreme Court.

Sergeant Reunited With Big Family In West Germany

FRANKFURT, Germany, Jan. 6 (P)—A grinning U. S. Air Force sergeant had a happy reunion with his wife and 10 children when they arrived here tonight by plane from the United States.

Sgt. Guilford E. Medor, 33, of Swanton, Vt., met them with a 37-passenger bus to take them to his "double" quarters at nearby Wiesbaden.

"The Air Force had to knock a hole in a wall and build a connecting door between a four-room and a three-room apartment to take care of us all," he said. "We're the biggest Air Force family here."

Stepping off the plane were his wife, Catherine, 31, and children: Franklin 14, Eleanor 13, Linda 12, Ralph 10, Loris 9, Mary Ann 8, Connie 7, Carlotta 6, Perley 3, and Corrine, 3 months old. An Air Force buddy patted Medor on the back and commented: "Some people will do anything to get their pictures in the papers."

Medor was transferred to Germany last August.

Game Agency Extends Archers' Deer Season By One Week; Shorter Bear Season Indicated

HARRISBURG, Jan. 6 (P)—The State Game Commission today took notice of the tremendous increase in the number of hunters that try to land a deer by bow and arrow and tentatively decided to extend the 1956 archer's special hunting season by one week.

Indefinite plans made at the commission's annual January meeting would fix Oct. 8 to Oct. 26 for the bow and arrow deer hunt. Not including Sundays, when hunting is prohibited, that would give archers 17 hunting days compared to 12 hunting days they have had every year since the special archery season was started in 1951.

Over 15,000 Archers

During the past five years the number of licensed archers in the state has jumped from 5,542 the first year to 17,299 last year. The increase in the kill during the special season has not kept pace with the license boost.

Other tentative opening dates, to be acted upon finally in July: Small game—Oct. 27; regular antlered deer—Dec. 3; and bear—Nov. 26.

In recent years the commission has announced only tentative opening dates in January as a convenience to hunters who must fix vacation dates in advance. Last year the final dates were exactly the same as the January dates.

Another possible revision of recent policy indicates a reduction of the bear season from two weeks to one week. In 1954 and 1955 the bear season was made two weeks after eight straight years of one-week hunts. The commission gave no reason for this decision.

Small Game Season

Only other proposed change was the statement that the "commission is seriously considering opening grouse and squirrel season Oct. 20," or one week before the regular small game season. Commission officials explain, is so that up to date information on the winter survival and spring breeding of the animals is available before the commission acts.

State records show this increase in the number of bow and arrow hunters in the last five years: 1951, 5,542; 1952, 8,446; 1953, 10,600; 1954, 15,480; and 1955, 17,299.

The commission also re-elected its three officers. They are Nicholas Biddle, Philadelphia, president; Herbert L. Buchanan, Franklin, vice president; and Andrew C. Long, Shamokin, secretary.

Hunters petitioned the commission to try the Saturday start in order to permit more hunters to get in to the field on an off-work day.

As usual during the January session, the commission ducked the problem of an antlerless or doe season. It has the power to declare an open season on doe or to skip it as was done in 1954. Last year the commission ordered a two-day doe hunt.

No Doe Discussion

"The commission did not discuss the doe matter but will take it up in July or possibly in April," said Dr. Logan J. Bennett, executive director. The reason for this, commission officials explain, is so that up to date information on the winter survival and spring breeding of the animals is available before the commission acts.

State records show this increase in the number of bow and arrow hunters in the last five years: 1951, 5,542; 1952, 8,446; 1953, 10,600; 1954, 15,480; and 1955, 17,299.

Truck Driver Admits Slaying

FORT WAYNE, Ind., Jan. 6 (P)—A 127-pound truck driver confessed to city and state police detectives tonight that he killed well-to-do Lyman Hise in jealousy over a red-haired tavern waitress.

Capt. R. F. Dillor of the state police detective division said Warren R. Hyde, 38, Fort Wayne, admitted beating the 59-year-old Hise to death with a rifle barrel, New Year's Day.

Hise's body, with the hands wired together, was found yesterday under an Eel River bridge about 15 miles west of here.

The state police detective said the woman involved is 37-year-old Mrs. Evelyn Dickerson of Fort Wayne, an attractive barmaid.

Five Good Samaritans Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 6 (P)—

A University of Michigan student who dropped a penny in a parking meter to save an absent driver a ticket was fined $11.85 today for his trouble.

Garbagemen's Pay Tops Teachers'

SPRINGFIELD, N.J., Jan. 6 (P)—Garbage collectors here outearn teachers and policemen.

Under a new contract signed between contractor James Petrosello of East Orange, and the Local 945 of the Teamsters Union drivers on garbage trucks will receive $114 for a 40-hour week and loaders will get $104 a week.

Springfield teachers earn between $3,300 and $5,500 a year. And only the chief of police makes more than the garbage truck drivers. His men make less.

S. A. Obtains Piano Speedily

HERE'S ANOTHER story to renew your faith in the power of co-operation. This one also sets something of a record for speed, too.

A friend of the Salvation Army called The Daily Record. She said the Army needed a piano for its second floor at the citadel headquarters.

The reporter who answered the phone then called William D. Johnson, secretary of the local Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce. Johnson also served as special coordinator of flood relief for the State Jaycees organization after the August disaster.

Piano Available

Part of the Jaycees work was getting pianos to replace those lost or damaged in churches by flood waters. Did the Jaycees have an extra piano they could turn over to the Army?

Yes, Johnson said, they did have. Did the Salvation Army have a truck to pick it up in and someone to help carry it up the stairs?

The Daily Record called Mrs. Charles Baker, wife of the captain of the local citadel. Mrs. Baker said the Army could have transportation and get the piano to its proper place.

Result: In about 20 minutes, the Salvation Army had the promise of a piano and the problem was solved.

THIS JAPANESE DOLL was a farewell present to Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton upon their leaving Tajima village in Japan. The doll represents the delicate and artistic talent of the Japanese people and is a kind of good will token from Christians in the Orient to Christians in our area. The value of the doll is enhanced because of the unusual way its purchase price was secured. The stark poverty of the people makes any giving sacrificial, and American people cannot comprehend a way of life where even ten yen (about 3½ cents) strains family resources. Soon after the arrival of the Eatons in Tajima, all unknown to them, the little growing church began to receive quietly small gifts from the members, in order that this token might be presented upon their leaving.

Eatons To Present Sequel To Lecture On Jap Missions At Service Tomorrow Night

SUNDAY at 7:30 p.m. in East Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Rev. and Mrs. Harold C. Eaton will give a sequel lecture upon their mission to Japan this past summer.

A more intimate discussion of the mission showing the ways by which people in the village of Tajima were led to Christian devotion, will be the chief subject dealt with during the service. Human interest stories will be told which depict the Japanese villagers' intense longing for a Democratic way of life and for an adequate religion.

The pastor and his wife will recall the intellectual and social difficulties expressed in conferences with teachers, doctors, leading persons in the village, and the more highly educated young people. The lecture will endeavor to bring into focus the 60 days of intense effort expended to bring Christ's way of life to a people bound by tradition and feudalistic superstitions, and deep poverty.

Illustrated Talk

Kodachrome slides never shown locally will illustrate the lecture. Letters recently received from Tajima will be read by Mrs. Ernest Staples, president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service. These letters voice the deep appreciation of the people with whom the Eatons labored as well as the continuing growth of the little church there.

Dr. Donald Corson will lead the congregation in singing hymns in Japanese that were favorites in the village. The Lord's prayer in Japanese will also be part of the devotional period. Gifts of the people of the village will be displayed. Mrs. Maude Stem, teacher of the Sunshine Class will lead the

Lesson - Sermon Subject Given

THE PURIFYING power of true prayer will be set forth in the lesson-sermon entitled "Sacrament" at Christian Science services Sunday.

Continuing the explanation of prayer, a correlative passage from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" states: "To enter into the heart of prayer, the door of the erring senses must be closed. Lips must be mute and materialism silent, that man may have audience with Spirit, the divine Principle, Love, which destroys all error."

The Golden Text is from Psalms (51:10): "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

State's Republicans First To Put Eisenhower's Name In Primary Test

President of the United States Dwight David Eisenhower, descendant of Pennsylvania forebears and now a legal resident of Adams County, will have his state party solidly behind him for reelection this year as the leaders of the State Republican Committee make their plans to place his name on the April 24 preferential primary ballot.

Thus does this commonwealth's GOP, where some of the earliest vote-seeking for Pres. Eisenhower began just about four years ago, indicate its continued confidence in the man presently in the White House, and its prayerful hope that he will be sufficiently recovered in health to undertake another four years in the Presidency.

When the GOP chieftains met in Harrisburg recently, there was no thought given to any other potential candidate for the White House, and as far as Pennsylvania is concerned there will be no such thought unless Pres. Eisenhower decides definitely to forego another term.

Pennsylvania, perhaps inordinately proud of the Eisenhower, is thus the first state to put the President's name on a preferential ballot, an act taken without consultation with him since state law does not require his signature of approval.

In the next several weeks the delegates will be named by the Republican committee, those who will become candidates in their respective districts for delegates and alternates, and those who will be named to complete the list of delegates-at-large. That they will all be enthusiastically acclaiming the Eisenhower candidacy is self evident.

We wish for the President a full recovery from his heart attack.

Nation To Observe Centennial Of Woodrow Wilson's Birth This Year

One of the brighter prospects for 1956 is the fact that it will give the nation fresh opportunity to honor one of its better-remembered presidents, Woodrow Wilson. This new year is the centennial of his birth.

Historian and educator at Princeton University before he was picked out of the blue to run for governor of New Jersey, Wilson had a relatively short but dramatic life in politics.

Patricians may argue about his rank in the scale of American presidents. Even some historians disagree. But most place him high.

George Sokolsky Says...

Republican Convention Fight Expected Over Re-Emergence Of Dewey For Vice President

Reports from Texas indicate that Tom Dewey is seeking the second choice preference from others will run in some states as favorite sons. Should they carry the states in the primaries in which they enter, enough votes would be withdrawn to make nomination on the first ballot at the Republican Convention. It is not yet clear how many favorite sons there will be, but most Senators and Governors like the mention and applause and when this game gets started, it rolls on and on. A favorite son operation will also appear in the Democratic Convention. Unless Eisenhower runs, neither Convention will be of short duration, therefore.

I have talked to some Democrats about the re-emergence of Tom Dewey and they seem pleased because, they say, it means renewal of the Dewey-Taft split, an attack on the White House Regency, particularly on Sherman Adams, James Hagerly, Herbert Brownell, Jr., and Maxwell Rabb by Republicans of the Taft persuasion, much of it on the floors of Congress. The Democrats say that it will help them enormously.

On the other hand, it must be recalled that it was the Dewey group in the Administration, who organized and directed the fight on Senator Joe McCarthy which McCarthy lost but which nobody has forgotten.

From other quarters come evidences that the Dewey organization is playing up his willingness to run for Vice President. The statements are going the rounds that Thomas E. Dewey is willing to sacrifice himself by accepting a second place on the ballot, so that should Eisenhower not be able to complete his second term, the United States would not be left in the lurch. Dewey, it may be recalled, ran twice for the Presidency, was twice defeated, and was the principal sponsor of Eisenhower for President. For such a man to take second place is indeed a sacrifice. Suppose Eisenhower lives as we all hope he may, to be as old as Herbert Hoover and Bernard Baruch, Dewey could go down in the back pages of the "World Almanac" as among the Vice Presidents.

It is clear now that Senators Knowland, Bridges, McCarthy and are delegates. If the opposition to Dewey has enough votes, the Republican Convention can be disrupted. As a matter of fact, if Eisenhower does not run, it is safe to say that the disruption is assured. If Eisenhower does run and Dewey runs for Vice President, the disruption is assured. That is why all the Democratic leaders I have talked to display such enthusiasm over any form of Dewey candidacy. They know that it means a fight inside the Republican Party.

The Taft-Dewey enmity unfortunately lives on and will be kept alive by those who, while they cannot oppose Eisenhower, can oppose Dewey. It is difficult to believe that the Regency has already decided to sidetrack the Vice President, Richard Nixon, in favor of Dewey, but that could happen because most of the Regents are followers and associates of Tom Dewey and are beholden to him for their advancement. If, therefore, he really wants the Vice Presidency, they would have no way of rejecting him.

On the other hand, it is not believed in strong Eisenhower circles that the President would circle Nixon who has made a more than satisfactory Vice President, behaved admirably during the President's illness, and does not deserve to be treated as Franklin D. Roosevelt treated Henry Wallace.

So, as one adds up all the little items that come to hand, fact, rumor, propaganda, inside dope, unconfirmed reports, it looks like a fight at the Republican Convention over the re-emergence of Thomas E. Dewey.

Young Business Executives Worry About Time Of Work

If you want to know what worries young business executives most, it's the feeling that they haven't enough time to get everything done that needs doing.

I have a notion that this is also what worries old business executives: doctors, lawyers, merchants, bankers, candlestick makers, housewives and almost any other up of people you might mention.

But in the case of the young business executives there is a little evidence to support the notion. Over a three-year period some 500 members of the Young Presidents' Organization (limited to executives who became presidents of their companies before they were forty) filled out questionnaires and submitted to interviews dealing with, among other things, the causes of their headaches. Some of the resulting information was discussed in the last issue of the Harvard Business Review.

Most of these young hotshots, it appears, "are constantly plagued by the frustrating thought that they have more work to do and more people to see on any given day than they can satisfactorily handle."

"Although most of them work much longer hours than other employees, seemingly have far-above-average physical energy, and often possess unusual powers of concentration and the self-discipline to see tasks through to completion, the nagging anxiety of unfinished tasks and unsolved problems is never very far away... One frequent result of this constant time pressure... is an almost adolescent experimenting with new devices that claim to save time."

What these fellows need, you might think, is that book I mentioned a while back—"How To Earn A Living In Four Hours A Day Without Feeling Guilty About It." Or maybe their difficulty stems from spending too much time reading stuff like that.

But what the Harvard Review piece says is that:

"From analyzing the typical daily calendars of more than 400 presidents to find out how they usually spent their 10-hour office days, it was evident that most of them devoted immense amounts of time to problems and activities which they did not need to handle personally."

That, I suspect, is a failing they share with the great majority of bosses and strawbosses throughout the business and industrial structure. Prices of many of the things we buy would be appreciably lower than they are if it weren't that, in the making of them, so many $5-an-hour workers fritter away time doing work that could just as well be done by $2-an-hour workers.

Probably the main reason for that is that most people feel a little guilty about asking others to do for them work they can do themselves. Another reason is that they also feel they can do it better themselves, anyway.

Naturally these attitudes put people under a heavy sense of pressure for time. I think the only remedy for it is to bring on the 10-day week.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Investigation Of U. S. Foreign Policy Started

Washington, January 7 — Key American ambassadors in Europe, the Far East and Middle East are being summoned for "consultations" — of an extraordinary kind.

These talks are part of an announced investigation of U. S. foreign policy.

Democratic congressional leaders in this crucial field have quietly added this probe to the already extensive list of investigations, and Secretary of State Dulles is directing these diplomats to come to Washington for interrogation.

The first of them is Ambassador John Lodge in Spain. Chairman James Richards (D-SC), of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, has scheduled Lodge to appear at a closed-door session on January 10. Lodge is former governor of Connecticut, and brother of UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

Two main purposes are behind this far-reaching inquiry:

(1) To obtain first hand reports on the latest developments in the cold war between the West and East; and (2) to check on Administration plans to appreciably increase the budget for foreign military and economic aid.

There is a third factor behind Ambassador John Lodge's impending grilling — of a partisan nature.

The Democrats are gunning for him because of a cable he sent, regarding alleged activities of a junketing Democratic senator, to Senator Barry Goldwater, Ariz., chairman of the Republican Senate Campaign Committee.

Senator Dennis Chavez (D-NM) is the subject of this critical cable.

He is chairman of both the important Public Works Committee and the Appropriations Subcommittee in charge of the military budget. Accompanied by members of his family and staff, Chavez visited Spain last summer to look into reports that the U. S. air and naval bases program there is lagging, and that the Franco government wants a big increase in economic assistance.

Lodge will be questioned about both these matters — plus the charges he reportedly made concerning Chavez.

Senator Goldwater was allegedly informed by Lodge that members of Chavez' party obtained sizable amounts of counterfeit funds (foreign currency) for expenses while in Europe.

Lodge's cable is directly counter to a congressional ban against such information being divulged, except to a "duly authorized committee."

They also angrily point out that congressional use of counterfeit funds is a long-standing and bipartisan practice. They claim to have evidence that the ranking Republican member of a major House committee got a large chunk of counterfeit funds in Paris and bought "oriental rugs" with the money.

Lodge sent his message to Goldwater through the Air Force. The Democrats are silent on how they got wind of that. But they have a copy of the cable, and will confront him with it when they grill him next week.

Note: One of the snafus that Foreign Affairs Committee members are investigating is the shipment of nine locomotives to Spain that were the wrong gauge and are not usable there. Also reports that embassy officials are "pressuring" both U. S. and Spanish military authorities to give contracts to certain firms.

Different View — Chief reason for the announced probe of the status of the East-West cold war is reports that Democratic leaders are receiving highly contradictory claims made by Secretary Dulles.

According to these reports the U. S. is losing ground to the Reds in the Far East and Middle East.

Dulles was questioned about this at President Eisenhower's conference last month with the bi-partisan leaders of Congress. House Democratic Leader John McCormack, Mass., particularly asked about conditions in Red-ruled South Vietnam and Thailand. The Secretary of State assured the lawmakers that the situation has greatly improved throughout Southeast Asia.

This view is contradicted in the reports in the Democrats' hands.

One of these reports is from a world-known pro-American Asian. In a detailed survey, the noted diplomat asserts, "Communism is on the advance virtually everywhere in Southeast Asia," and "far from getting better, the ominous fact is that conditions are steadily deteriorating."

Note: Turkey and Japan are starting discussions for the establishment of better trade relations. Japan is seeking a $10,000,000 barter agreement.

Budget Tips — President Eisenhower's forthcoming budget will include $50,000,000 for federal aid to medicine and dental schools, on a dollar matching basis... The President will also ask for $500,000,000 for new farm aid. Of this sum, $150,000,000 will be for a soil bank, and the other $350,000,000 to buy perishable commodities to bolster sagging prices.

Presently, it is being performed by ten companies in Germany... The other balm night in Miami (where it makes its U. S. debut) an assemblage of high-society, Hollywood and New York first-nighters walked out in bunches...

Economy To Be At Top Speed

—by H. G. Heller

In 1956 the American economy is going to be driving at the speed limit according to an article in the Business Review of the Federal Reserve Bank of Philadelphia.

The funny thing about it is, the economy will have to slow down a little to arrive at the speed limit. By slowing down, the Bank means the quarterly increases in total spending can't be as large as this year.

During 1955 the quarterly increases in total spending averaged about $8 billion at an annual rate. This has been fine, the Bank says, because we've been racing to make up ground lost in the recession of 1954. By the final months of 1955 we recovered the ground lost.

Next year, quarterly increases of $8 billion—the catch-up rate—would clearly be excessive. What we want now is a rate of advance that will absorb additions to our labor force, reflect increases in productivity, provide us with a higher standard of living, and do all this without a general rise in prices.

$1 Billion Increases — The Bank figures quarterly increases of about $4 billion in 1956 would most nearly satisfy the speed limit objective. This would bring total spending for 1956 to about $410 billion. It implies that many of the forecasts we read, saying that total spending next year will be $400 billion, are not so optimistic as generally interpreted.

The Bank cautions that business is delicately poised when driving at the speed limit. This means that any sudden turn in the road ahead can cause the economy to slow down or career.

To illustrate this point the Bank charts two courses, one leads to recession, the other to inflation.

One way recession could come is if the automobile experts are as wrong as they were a year ago. This time last year automobile sales were expected to total about 5.8 million units in 1955. They'll actually total about 8 million units. That's an error of about 40 per cent on the up side. What goes up can come down. This year auto experts say we'll sell about 8 million cars in 1956. Suppose they miss by 40 per cent again—this time on the down side.

Inflation could result if consumers go on a buying spree. The hike in the minimum wage effective March 1, and the possibility of a reduction in the income tax in June are factors that could spark a surge in consumer demand.

Actually, however, the Bank feels there is more likelihood that the economy will drive right at the speed limit in 1956.

Army Engineers Establish New Group For Delaware Survey

Will Relay Hearing Data To Congress

COL. ALLEN F. Clark Jr., district engineer for the Philadelphia District of the Army Engineers, announced yesterday he has established a new unit in the district office known as the Delaware Valley Report Group to carry out the comprehensive survey of the Delaware River and its tributaries to determine what the current needs are for all phases of water resources development. According to Col. Clark, the target date for completion of the survey is January 1959.

Lt. Col. John C. H. Lee Jr., has been placed in charge of this unit and is currently assembling his staff of civil engineers, estimators, statisticians, economists, geologists, hydrologists, hydraulic engineers, mechanical engineers, and power engineers.

The immediate objective of this group is the review of all previous reports on the Delaware River and its tributaries by the Federal Government or other agencies. This review will cover all aspects of flood control, navigation, water supply, hydroelectric power and irrigation.

Four Hearings

Four public hearings are being held to obtain the views and recommendations of other Federal agencies, as well as agencies of the states, counties and local municipalities, private industries and individuals. The first was held in Port Jervis, N. Y., yesterday; the next will be held in Stroudsburg on Jan. 13; then in Trenton on Jan. 20 and in Philadelphia on Jan. 27. These hearings will give the general public the opportunity to advance plans for development of the water resources of the entire Delaware Basin and to recommend plans for flood control and navigation.

The Delaware Valley Report Group will study and evaluate all data obtained through these hearings, make necessary field investigations, preliminary plans and estimates as may be in order, and then prepare a report for the Congress outlining its findings and recommendations.

Flood Control Steps Urged

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Jan. 6.—Officials of areas hit by floods last August appealed at an Army Engineers' hearing today for federal help in dredging, dams and dikes to prevent a recurrence.

The hearing was conducted in a schoolhouse here by Col. Allen F. Clark Jr., and four associates from Philadelphia district office of the U. S. Army Engineers.

The hearing was the first of four to be held by the board. The next will be at Stroudsburg, Jan. 13.

Mayor James T. Murphy of Port Jervis told the board the city suffered $556,000 damage to public and private property through overflowing of the Delaware and Neversink Rivers.

Asks Dredging
He recommended dredging of both rivers and asked that consideration be given to repair and raising of dikes along their shores.

John Borden, engineer for Inco-dell, asked consideration of previous Inco-dell recommendations for the building of four dams.

The proposed locations are at Barryville, Godeffroy and Cannonsville, N. Y., and Wallpack Bend, Pa.

Supervisors of townships in the Port Jervis area also proposed action to combat the flood menace.

Col. Clark said he would compile all the information obtained at the hearings and file a report to federal authorities.

Horace Evans, representing the New York State Flood Control Commission, pledged the cooperation of his agency with the Army in surveys of projects.

Letters pledging cooperation were received from Gov. Averell Harriman and Sen. Irving Ives (R-NY).

ITU Ordered To Comply With Contract

THINGS STAYED the same at the Hughes Printing Co. plant in East Stroudsburg yesterday.

A picket from Local 367, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, of Easton, was still walking in front of the plant.

Members of the International Typographical Union, Local 943, stayed off the job for the second day.

The following telegram was received yesterday from the headquarters of the International Typographical Union in Indianapolis by R. C. Hughes, president of the Hughes Printing Co.:

Regarding telegram and our telephone discussion this afternoon, ITU Executive Council has instructed members of the East Stroudsburg Typographical Union, No. 943 to immediately comply with the current ITU approved contract.

"Signed, Harry A. Reffin, Executive Secretary to President of International Typographical Union."

Hughes Statement

The Hughes Printing Co. issued this statement last night:

"Based upon the support of the International Union, the Hughes Printing Co. calls on the members of the local union to fulfill the terms of their contract. Because of the critical timeliness of its publication work, weekly and monthly, it will start transferring the composition of its publications to other union plants on Monday, unless its composing room employees report for work Monday morning.

"We are forced to this step by the fact that if the company cannot produce its contractual periodicals, the publishers will move them out permanently. This company will take every possible legal step to keep the business in this town for all its graphic arts unions. Both pressroom and bindery unions are working and composing room work performed elsewhere will be brought back here for printing, binding and mailing."

Edwin B. Hughes, plant spokesman, said earlier he still had been given no official notice from the electricians' union as to why the picket was outside; still had not heard from the ITU concerning its reasons for taking men off the job and had received no reply in its efforts to contact the ITU international organization.

Press, Bindery Work
Workers in the press and bindery departments were still at work. The Printing Pressmen's and Assistants' Union, Local 350 has a contract with the company and its international president has ordered all men who are members of the local to stay on the job, unless told by the company that there is no work for them.

The picket, according to a union official, is on duty at the plant to protest the hiring of a non-union electrical contractor to do wiring on the company's new building addition. William Evans, Chipperfield Drive, is the contractor.

Hughes company officials said that no men were working in the new addition at the time the picket was put on.

Mrs. Buskirk, 75, Succumbs

MRS. MARY BUSKIRK, 75, died at Kellersville yesterday morning. She was the widow of Ezra Buskirk and formerly resided at Saylorsburg RD.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Kresge funeral home with Rev. Adan Bohner officiating. Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Sunday.

Walter Introduces Measure Calling For Flood Disaster Insurance With Federal Aid

REP. FRANCIS E. WALTER has introduced a bill to provide flood disaster insurance and reinsurance with government participation.

The Easton Democrat's bill (House Bill 7996) was introduced this week. It was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency for study and possible recommendation.

Under terms of the Walter bill the secretary of health, education and welfare would be authorized to "provide, upon payment of such premiums and subject to such terms and conditions as secretary may establish, either insurance or reinsurance (or both) against damage to or loss of privately owned property as a result of any flood as defined by Secretary, occurring within the United States or its Territories."

Excerpts from the bill, as proposed by Walter, follow:

"In order to promote the general welfare, it is the purpose of this act to alleviate the widespread economic distress suffered from time to time . . . as a result of floods; to alleviate the attendant impairment of the free flow of interstate and foreign commerce by (1) providing direct government insurance of certain risks connected with floods; (2) making insurance of such risks available through private insurers by means of governmental reinsurance or (3) both such insurance and reinsurance."

"The term 'property' includes land, interests in land, improvements on land which are permanently affixed to the land and tangible personal property."

"The bill empowers the secretary to make exceptions to cases in which he feels it advisable, it provides also that such insurance may be given 'whenever, in the opinion of the secretary, such insurance or reinsurance cannot be obtained at reasonable rates or upon reasonable terms . . . from approved private insurers. . . ."

On the matter of payment of premiums:

"The secretary shall prescribe, and may revise from time to time, uniform premium rates for the insurance and reinsurance made available under this act and shall prescribe the terms and conditions upon which each such rate shall be based and the areas which such rates shall apply."

"Such rates shall be based upon consideration of the risks involved and shall be sufficient, as nearly as may be practicable, to defray, in whole or in part, administrative and operating costs under this act."

"Such rates shall be sufficient to provide for adequate reserves to cover loss and to encourage the participation of private insurers in the programs of insurance . . . provided by this act."

"The secretary may provide for the exclusion from the insurance and reinsurance programs such risks as may be impracticable to cover, either in individual cases or classes of cases . . . The secretary shall provide (the) classification . . ."

"In providing and making available insurance . . . the secretary may arrange, by contract . . . (for) the facilities and services of private insurers, established insurance agents and brokers . . . with the objective of providing insurance protection at minimum cost."

The bill authorizes the establishment of a "National Flood Insurance Fund" and a "National Flood Reinsurance Fund" in the U. S. Treasury.

"Such funds shall consist of:

1. Amounts received from the sale of bonds or securities authorized by the act.

2. Amounts received from the sale of bonds or securities authorized by the act.

New Disaster Head Welcome By Red Cross

LEO ACHTERMAN JR., who contributed so vitally to Red Cross efforts during the flood emergency, last night was welcomed by the board of directors of Monroe County Chapter as the new disaster chairman of the chapter.

Roy Mikels presided at the meeting in the absence of Charles Bensinger, chapter chairman. Mrs. Roman Batory gave the secretary's report and James Gould read the treasurer's report.

Mrs. LeRoy Koehler, chairman of volunteer services, reported that during December 99 volunteers had given more than 574 hours of service to the blood bank, the hospital and the chapter itself.

The big blood donor visit at the Tobyhanna Signal Depot used 59 volunteers for a total of 413 hours, she announced, pointing out that 17 registered nurses had been on duty and four doctors, and that 23 women had worked 138 hours for the canteen at the center, Gray Ladies at the hospital, 42 of them gave 434 hours in December.

Thanks Signal Depot

The board directed the secretary to write a letter of appreciation to the Signal Depot for their contribution of blood which made the county's balance with the blood bank solvent after its credit had slipped back as an aftermath of the flood.

LeRoy Mikels, blood donor chairman, reported however that unprecedented demands for blood during the present month still made it vital that donors contribute during the next visit of the bloodmobile, Tuesday, January 10.

Home service during the month included 22 cases and 80 calls not counted as cases. There were 20 cases involving active service cases. Nine telegrams were sent and 19 long distance calls made on behalf of service men or their families, and there were 173 office interviews, Mrs. Clifford Heller, home service chairman reported.

Mrs. Ida Kunkle, executive secretary, gave in detail the events of one typical day at Red Cross headquarters, and read a report of volunteer hour in Berrett sent by Mrs. Raymond Michener.

Private Group Seeks To Build Three Dams

A PRIVATE corporation has filed application with the Federal Power Commission for permission to construct three dams on the Delaware River.

According to FPC officials the application was filed this week by "The Delaware River Development Corporation."

The corporation asks the commission to grant a preliminary permit allowing it to construct dams to be located on the Delaware in Sussex and Warren Counties in New Jersey; Pike, Monroe and Northampton Counties in Pennsylvania and Orange County, New York.

In its application, the corporation also says that "if the Tocks Island site"—on Bushkill Creek—"proves to be infeasible" the corporation proposes to study the Wallpack Bend site near Bushkill.

Dams Listed
Bills authorizing the construction of the Wallpack Bend dam by Pennsylvania and New Jersey have been approved by both legislatures. This construction would be undertaken by use of public funds.

Included in the corporation's project would be the following dams: The Tocks Island Development 10.5 miles below the mouth of Bushkill Creek would consist of a rock-filled dam with a gated-gravity spillway section, a reservoir about 22 miles long and a powerhouse with installed capacity of 150,000 horsepower.

The reservoir on Tocks Island would have a total storage capacity of 687,800 acre-feet and a usable capacity of 537,900 acre-feet for storage of water and production of hydroelectric power.

The Chestnut Hill Development, consisting of a concrete gravity dam located 2.43 miles above the highway bridge at Easton. The dam would have a gated spillway, a reservoir and a powerhouse with a 60,000 horsepower installed capacity. The reservoir would have a usable capacity of 3,900 acre-feet.

Belvidere Project
The Belvidere Development would be located one mile above Belvidere, N. J. It would consist of a concrete-gravity dam with 16,900 acre-feet usable capacity and a powerhouse with installed capacity of 72,000 horsepower.

In making public the fact that the application has been filed, the commission notes that "protests or

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

Well, next week's calendar looks as if we're really beginning to hit our stride, meeting-wise, after the holidays. PTA meetings, club meetings, circle meetings and quiltings, coming right along in order.

However there are still a few homes with their out-door Christmas lights still shining through the dusk, and even fewer where you can still glimpse the Christmas tree through the windows. And sort of homesick it makes you too, except I'm afraid our tree would have been nothing but bare branches if we'd left it up beyond the traditional Twelfth Night.

There are those who hang their Christmas trees with orange cups filled with suet and bird seeds and bottle caps full of peanut butter and garlands of bread crumbs for the birds, which seems a pretty post-Christmas idea.

Then there are some who save the trees, and at Easter time hang the bare branches with painted Easter egg shells which is supposed to bring fabulous good-fortune or something.

Firemen, on the other hand, think the best thing to do with an old Christmas tree is to burn it promptly to lessen the fire hazards. And by the way, if you burn the greens in the fireplace don't put in too many at once—they do make a terrifying blaze.

Firemen probably wouldn't approve at all, but they do make a sweet nostalgic smell that seems to hold the scent of Christmas cookies baking, candles burning, and incense from the Magi's censor all in one.

THE Wyckoff
SHOPPER

With the announcement of her engagement to Prince Rainier of Monaco, the star of screen actress Grace Kelly will continue to rise, and last year's Academy Award winner will undoubtedly continue to be the inspiration and model of American girls and women everywhere. Probably her greatest claim to distinction is Grace Kelly's appearance of calm, dignified imperturbability with perfect grooming even more important, perhaps, than the delicate features which give her an enviable beauty. Right now our Wyckoff departments are selling—and at marked down prices too—many items of merchandise that make it possible for all women to be well dressed and well groomed. In our glove department alone there are some beautiful buys at 1.00—in all types of fabric and a variety of colors. As a matter of fact, there are even some long black lace mitts at that price. As Sylvia Strunk says, "So what if you don't need them today—maybe you will tomorrow."

Laura Fabel tells me that all I wrote about the stretch nylon hosiery for pregnant women is true, and that some expectant mothers come in to buy on the advice of their physicians. Laura also shows me another stocking by Chantellee, that's increasingly popular with all of our customers. A sheer nylon, it has six nylon elastic cords running through the top. These are not so tight as a round garter might be, but can be adjusted easily so that the hosiery will be held firmly and comfortably in place. Expectant mothers like them because it is not necessary to wear a girdle or garter belt under desired. Girls also like them under tight fitting sheath dresses and evening gowns, as no marks show through the outer garments. Comparatively new on the market, these are already making a big hit, and the price is only 1.50 a pair... Happy Hearth.

That's a pleasant name, isn't it?—and such an apt one too, when applied to kitchen accessories. Our notions department is stocking a cute magnetized potholder that will stay firmly attached to the stove when not actually in use; also sets of bowl covers in the same homey pattern. Happy Hearth design comes both in vinyl plastic and durable cotton. I am told, and the accessories fill countless household needs colorfully and inexpensively.

Don't know what Dollie Erdman's horsecoat said for the month of January, but her heart's in the clouds—thanks to Skyway, a new ultra-light luggage that's on order and will soon be available in our luggage department. Made of Koroseal, these soft-side cases are durable enough to hold a man's weight, as demonstrated by the salesman. Moreover, they will not crack, chip, peel, mildew or "retire" because of old age. Dollie is stocking four in Danbe Blue, Jet Gray, and Burma Brown and feels that you'll love going places with them. As a matter of fact, even the bigger cases can be carried on one finger, they're that featherweight. The price is featherweight too, so what more could anyone ask?... In January there are mark-downs in almost every department as we prepare for inventory and a new year. Now's the time to spend your savings and save in the doing. Do come in!

NEWS COMING out of Philadelphia concerning Evan Reese, East Stroudsburg's injured football player, has been all good and indicates that the pucky youngster is now on the road back. Evan, following a sixth operation on his damaged left leg last Wednesday, is showing more progress in the past week than he had in seven previous weeks at the University of Pennsylvania Hospital. Reese is allowed to be in a wheel chair for two hours each day, something that wasn't even mentioned prior to this week.

The East Stroudsburg freshman has been working with a physiotherapist recently and is in much better spirits. The leg incision is healing and except for loss of weight Reese reportedly looks better than at any time since he has entered the hospital. Jack Kist, football and baseball coach at East Stroudsburg High; Mike Jacobella, assistant grid mentor, and students Gene Plaza, Ed Yakenchek, Frank Lupin and Bill Nelson visited Evan yesterday.

East Stroudsburg High officials are carefully checking the plans of giving three gift certificates to Dick Gray, who recently was named Monroe County's Senior Athlete of 1955. Authorities want to make certain beyond a doubt that such a move won't violate Dick's amateur status. Cornell and Colgate are waging quite a battle for Gray, who graduates from the N. Courtland St. school in June.

Anyone who knows Paul Elbrecht finds it virtually impossible to believe the embarrassing story which broke in Carbondale this week. Paul, a bank employee, was one of the top sports announcers and writers in the Scranton-Carbondale area. He was professional baseball's best friend in Carbondale and a real booster of the now defunct class "D" North Atlantic League. He assisted this reporter on many occasions and was a frequent visitor in the Stroudsburg-East Stroudsburg area.

Tickets are now on sale for the January 25 appearance of the Tusa Choir, under the sponsorship of the Varsity "E" Club. They can be purchased at virtually any business establishment in the two boroughs. Adults are being charged one dollar and students 50 cents. The Varsity "E" Club is also making a drive for members at the present time. Anyone wishing to join the organization may do so by forwarding two dollars to Russell "Bucky" Lebar, 82 Lackwanna Ave., East Stroudsburg.

Cash awards were presented to the top five finishers in the New Year's Day Headpin Tournament at Harmon's Recreation Center. The list includes Jim Harmon Jr., 277; Steve Sobrinsky, 264; Floyd Starnes, 264; Sam Strunk, 263, and Wally Straub, 260. Jack Burke, a member of the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College basketball squad, escaped possible serious injury on Wednesday when his car overturned near the Delaware Water Gap Toll Bridge. The accident was caused by icy roads. The vehicle landed directly on its roof.

Jack is alright and is expected to see plenty of action against Kutztown tonight. West Chester, loser to ESSTC earlier in the present campaign, extended Villanova to the very limit before losing a 70-62 basketball verdict on Wednesday night. The eight-point final margin was the biggest loss the Wildcats held in the game. Villanova held only a 52-51 edge going into the last two minutes of action.

Don Keat, Bangor High's brilliant forward, is to be congratulated for his record smashing performance this season. Don will cap the greatest individual performance in Bangor basketball history this year. He's the top scorer at the entire Lehigh Valley at the present time. Earl Everett last night returned to his position in the Chestnuthill High lineup. Everett was forced to the sidelines with a fractured jaw in November.

Last weekend was the biggest weekend in the life of Carl Adelman, former basketball and track star at Pennsylvania Military College. Carl was married on Sunday and then won no less than three basketball honors on Monday. He played with the Stroudsburg Poconos, championship team in the Monroe County YMCA, won high scoring honors and was voted the outstanding player in the same tournament. That's a record that will probably stand for a long time. Al Beecker's Diner, of the Pocono Mountains League, will play Newfoundland, of the Tri-County League, on the Greene-Dreher-Sterling High court tonight.

Shook Ties Record With 33 Points

DOUG SHOOK equalled a Stroudsburg High scoring record, but the Mountaineers went down to their second straight Lehigh Valley League basketball defeat by a 76-62 margin at the hands of Slatington last night. The game was played on the W. Main St. court before one of the larger crowds of the current campaign.

Shook turned in the most brilliant performance of his career as the big center equalled a record set in 1933 by Byron "Chick" Miller against Catawqua. Miller's 33 points were also registered on the Stroudsburg court, but in a winning cause.

The junior center may have set another record as he drew credit for capturing 18 rebounds, 14 off the defensive boards and four off the offensive backboard. Shook, back in stride after a siege of illness, found the range on 14 of 21 shots from the field and five of 10 tosses from the foul line.

Shook scored five of his points in the first quarter; 11 in the second; 14 in the third round and three in the final stanza.

But, the hard working center's solo effort couldn't make up for a rash of wild passes, thoughtless fouling and too frequent dribbling. Slatington's pressing defense in the second half completely baffled a Stroudsburg team that held a vast advantage in height and a strong edge in play most of the second period.

Officials, players and fans became confused by turn in the wild, race horse basketball that raged from start to finish. Doug Nichols' speed and Don Hickey's strong game on the backboards gave the Mountaineers a new look in the first half, as Nichols opened the scoring with a driving layup. Tom Savidge followed with a field goal and Nichols hit again from the floor to give the home team a 6-2 edge.

But, Slatington, featuring one of its smallest teams in history, fought back to make it a nip and tuck contest for the remainder of the opening eight minutes.

Slatington, coached by Lloyd Williams, battled to a 18-11 advantage at the end of the first quarter. But, it was Stroudsburg's turn to catch fire in the second period, during which Shook picked off eight of his rebounds and tapped in four field goals in scrimmages under the basket. The Mountaineers drove into a 35-23 lead late in the second round, but the size of the lead dwindled faster than this week's paycheck as the Slaters trailed by only four points at halftime.

Stroudsburg, showing more speed than in the past, also displayed a tendency to loose control of the ball in the third quarter and the determined Slaters took advantage of every break to earn a 50-55 deadlock with the Mountaineers entering the home stretch. The brilliant jump shots of Dick Balyak and Ken Johnston took on a remarkable aspect in the last period as they hit with near perfection from a distance of eight feet.

Slatington, once the power of the Lehigh Valley League, rolled to 21 points in the last eight minutes, while Stroudsburg was held to seven by the opposing pressing defense.

The Slaters ran up a 31-27 advantage in field goals and converted 14 of 24 shots from the field. Stroudsburg found the range on only eight of 18 tosses from the charity stripe.

Nichols was the number two scorer on the Stroudsburg club, forced to play without the services of Bob Adelman with 10 counters. Adelman was on the sick list.

Ibbotson and Art Papp hit 17 points each, while Lowell Scherer copped high scoring honors for Slatington with 18 counters. Babyak finished with 12.

Slatington swept the program by scoring a 46-40 victory in the junior varsity contest.

ABC Honors Fetherman For Rolling 298 Game At Harmon's

KENNETH C. FETHERMAN JR., 55 Brown St., East Stroudsburg was honored with a modern design ring at Harmon's Recreation on Thursday night as a reward for bowling a 298 game on the same alleys earlier in the season.

The ring was given to Fetherman by the American Bowling Congress and was presented by Calvin Counterman, secretary of the Monroe County Bowling Association. This is only one of several awards the ABC presents each year for rolling games of 298, 299 and 300.

Figures "298" are stamped on a black onyx, while the remainder of the ring is made of sterling silver. An the inside of the ring is engraved Fetherman's name and address along with the date on which the 298 game was rolled.

But, the 12th attempt came in "high" on the headpin and Fetherman ended the game with a 3-10 split. He finished the match with a 157 third game for a total of 602 pins for the night.

Fetherman's 298 performance is the highest recorded ABC approved game rolled in the history of Monroe County bowling. The previous high of 297 was credited to Al Andrews in 1951 and was also rolled at Harmon's Recreation.

Villanova, Penn Triumph Jack Weissman's two foul shots with 68 seconds remaining gave Villanova a 54-53 victory over West Virginia tonight in the second game of a doubleheader at the Palestra.

The University of Pennsylvania opened its Ivy League season with a 69-66 win over Dartmouth in the opener.

Milford Tops Greene-Dreher Milford High's powerful basketball squad turned on the ability against Greene-Dreher-Sterling High last night and administered a 54-41 licking to the Wayne County Conference Stags.

The host team held the upper hand from start to finish in the exhibition contest. Milford jumped off to a 19-9 advantage in the first period and rolled without stop to victory, although outscored in the fourth quarter, 12-9.

The home team enjoyed advantages of 11-10 in the second stanza and 15-10 in the third quarter.

Second Loss Last night's loss was the second straight for the Stags who opened the campaign with five successive victories.

Milford ran up a 22-13 advantage in field goals and connected on 10 of 18 foul shots. Greene-Dreher found the range on 15 of 39 tosses from the charity mark.

Scoreless Second Period Proves Fatal

FOUNTAIN HILL — East Stroudsburg High ran into one of the Lehigh-Northampton League powers last night and finished second best by a 72-39 score, as a scoreless second quarter proved fatal beyond a doubt to the previously undefeated Cavaliers.

The win enabled Fountain Hill, the host team, to keep pace with Parkland in first place, each having won four games without defeat.

feat. The Cavaliers now show a league mark of two wins and one setback.

East Stroudsburg, plagued with a first quarter scoring famine in recent games, got by the first eight minutes alright last night, but then ran into a thick coat of whitewash in the second round.

The Hillers, coached by young Charley Dobbs, held a 17-12 advantage at the end of eight minutes of play and then completely ran away with the game by running up 26 markers in the second quarter while the Cavaliers found it impossible to even register a successful foul shot. The Hillers adjourned to the dressing room with a gigantic 43-12 lead at halftime.

Co-Captain Danny Marvin fouled out of the game in the second period after scoring two points for the visiting contingent.

Bob Notz converted a pair of foul shots after two minutes of the third period had been played to give East Stroudsburg its first points since the late moments of the first quarter.

Fountain Hill was held on even terms by the Cavaliers in the second half, but the damage had been done. The Hillers failed to score for the first four and one half minutes of the final period, but still held a 13-12 edge during that stanza. The home team held the upper hand in the third quarter, 16-15.

Fountain Hill's field goal advantage was 25-14. The home team connected on 22 of 39 free throws, while East Stroudsburg made good on 11 of 23 charity tosses. Dick Gray led the East Stroudsburg attack with 15 points. The seven foul shots, Ray Kosman and Dan Striecki topped the Fountain Hill offense with 20 and 17 markers, respectively.

Fountain Hill made it a perfect night by winning the junior varsity contest, 61-44, despite 18 points by East Stroudsburg's Jim Kendrick.

Tatum Headed For New Post

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 6 (AP)—Jim Tatum, Maryland's nine-term head football coach, seemed assured of returning to North Carolina, his alma mater, tonight, but announcement of the switch apparently was bogged down in a mass of red tape—the clearing of the matter through various university channels. No official news was expected before tomorrow.

Chestnuthill Upsets Pocono

BROOKHEADSVILLE — Chestnuthill rocked the Monroe County League with the biggest upset of the current campaign last night by compiling a 48-47 victory over previously undefeated Pocono. The game was played here on the Chestnuthill court.

Pocono, winner of its first three games, trailed virtually all the way against Chestnuthill, defending title holder. The loss was the first of the league season for Pocono, while Chestnuthill now sports a record of two wins and a pair of setbacks.

Gene Mackes and Don Beck paced the scoring attack as Chestnuthill vaulted into a 12-10 advantage at the end of the first period and a 24-18 lead at the halfway mark.

Chestnuthill, coached by Bill Frenn, held a 12-8 upper hand during the second quarter.

The home team, victim of a second half slump in its last four outings, didn't crack last night and fought off a determined Pocono bid in the fading seconds to gain the biggest victory of the current campaign.

Chestnuthill took a big step toward victory with a 16-11 advantage in the third period, which turned out to be enough of a margin to beat back a strong 18-point drive by Pocono in the final eight minutes. The home team was held to eight during this same period.

Pocono trailed by a 48-43 margin with only a second on the board. Ronnie Martinelli drove for a field goal and teammate Jim "Sticks" Wagner was fouled on the play. Wagner dunked a pair of free throws at the end of the game to close the gap to one point.

Chestnuthill ran up a 21-17 edge in field goals, but Pocono connected on 13 of 21 foul shots to make it a real battle. The home team connected on six of 13 shots from the foul line.

Mackes finished with 15 points and Beck with 14 in a losing cause, while Wagner and Martinelli led the losing offense with 12 and 14 markers respectively.

Pocono gathered a measure of revenge by winning the junior varsity contest, 56-24, as Paul Frailey led the way with 16 tallies.

West Chester is only one of seven tough foes to be faced by the Normal Hill tankmen this season.

Other rivals include Lock Haven, LaSalle, Cortland, Brooklyn Poly, Long Island University and Adelphi.

Lansdale Defeats Pope Pius

Coolbaugh Regains First Place Spot

TOBYHANNA — Coolbaugh vaulted back into first place in the Monroe County Basketball League last night with a 50-48 victory over Poik, here on the winning club's home hardwood.

Coolbaugh's return to the top spot in the standings was made possible by Chestnuthill's 48-47 decision over previously unbeaten Pocono.

The host squad, under the direction of Coach Don Wismer, won its fourth verdict in five outings by maintaining the lead virtually the entire game.

Halftime Coolbaugh was in front at the end of the first quarter, 15-8, but Poik narrowed the deficit to 26-22 at halftime.

The home team held a 14-4 edge in the third quarter and made certain of victory with a tight 23-22 advantage in the final eight minutes.

Coolbaugh ran up a 26-20 advantage in field goals and converted 13 of 30 foul shots. Poik connected on eight of 15 free throws.

Bob Sapp put on another brilliant scoring display for Coolbaugh with 29 points. Ronnie Smith's 19 tallies topped the Poik offense.

Poik gained some revenge by scoring a 21-16 victory in the junior varsity contest.

Stocks Rise Moderately; Oils Dominant

NEW YORK, Jan. 6 (AP) — Oil stood out strongly today in a moderately higher stock market.

Getting ahead with the oils were the steels, rails, utilities, and copper. The airlines didn't do very well, and other key divisions displayed a mixture of gains and losses.

General Motors, at the head of the list most of the time in recent days, was third most active unchanged at 44 1/2. It was followed by Westinghouse Electric unchanged at 58 1/2.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks gained 80 cents at $179.30. It held unchanged yesterday and lost a total of $1.70 in the two previous sessions. The industrial component advanced $1.10, rails were up 40 cents, and utilities added 30 cents.

The list contained 1,188 individual issues of which 622 advanced and 311 declined with 36 new highs and 7 new lows for the year.

Volume expanded with the betterment in prices and came to 2,570,000 shares. That compares with 2,110,000 shares traded yesterday.

Ronson was up 2 at 15 1/2. Other gainers were Chrysler 1/2, U. S. Rubber 1 1/2, American Telephone 1/2, Anaconda Co. 1 1/2.

Court Exempts Pinebrook From County-Township Taxes

Dealing with the question of whether the recipients of the plaintiffs' services could obtain them for themselves, the court quoted Dr. Crawford as saying that the Summer Bible camps have "given hundreds of boys and girls—thousands of boys and girls—a chance to have a vacation out of the cities that they couldn't have had otherwise."

Among the facts brought out in the case were that about 3,000 youngsters attend Pinebrook, Shadbrook and Mountaintop camps each summer, that about 1,500 young people make a definite commitment to the Christian Faith in a Bible conference season, and that about 400 underprivileged children attended the camp in 1955. Their expenses were paid by interested parties.

Cite Catholic Camp
The court cited the case of the "Little Flower Camp," for girls between eight and 18, and "St. Theresa's Home" for tired mothers and rundown children, operated in Monroe County by the Roman Catholic Diocese of Scranton.

In an opinion filed in 1935, the Monroe County Court held that the lands were entitled to exemption as a purely public charity.

"That this principle has been recognized by the taxing authorities is evidenced by the exemption from taxation of Camp Miller, I. e. high Presbyterian Camp, Pocono Plateau Christian Association, the Bernadine Sisters of the third order of St. Francis and other similar properties," Judge Davis wrote.

The court also noted that Dr. Crawford is now paid an annual salary of $6,000. It considered this to be a "modest" sum in light of the fact that, in addition to preaching and supervising camp activities Dr. Crawford also travels about 40,000 miles a year and speaks in public meetings and over radio and TV.

Discount Contention
The court discounted the defendant's contention that the corporation's avowed purpose—namely to teach the Bible—does not constitute a public charity. It did so after calling attention to a decision which noted "that to bring the hearts of an indefinite number of persons under the influence of education or religion was a proper object of public charity."

"We conclude that the land used by the plaintiff . . . is used for a purely charitable purpose and is exempt from taxation," Judge Davis wrote. "If at any time the taxing authorities have evidence that the property is not being used for a purely charitable purpose, or that it is being operated for the personal profit of any individual, application may be made to this court for a modification of the decree."

It was brought out in court that the total income in 1948 was $110,072.58, while expenditures amounted to $100,774.55. The net profit that year was $10,298.03. But in 1949, the net profit was $456.77, and, in 1950, the corporation recorded a net loss of $364.47.

The property was extensively damaged in the Aug. 18 flood.

Atty. Arlington W. Williams, Stroudsburg, represented the plaintiff.

State Realtors Name Ramsey As Director

LAWRENCE M. RAMSEY, president of Pocono Mountains Real Estate Board has been named to the board of directors of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association.

Forrest Smith, past president of the local board, was named a member of the legislative committee of the state group.

Richard W. Fechtenberg, Edgington, Pa., new state president announced the appointments.

A heavy legislative program has been set up by the group because it is the only "lobby" representing property owners in Harrisburg and other parts of the state. Pennsylvania, Smith said last night.

Gyp Advertising Scheme Charged

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 6 (AP) — A former Scranton man was held in $1,000 bail today on charges of operating an advertising racket in which some 73 physicians and merchants were victimized.

Gregory J. Walsh, 24, was arrested on the complaint of Dr. Paul M. Steingard, of Philadelphia.

Detective Capt. Richard T. Doyle said Walsh billed Dr. Steingard and 47 other physicians for $5 each on the pretext their names would be contained in a professional listing in a non-existent labor publication.

Doyle said Walsh also collected $156 from 25 merchants, mostly in Northeast Philadelphia, in a similar scheme. Doyle said Walsh solicited the business by telephone, using the name of Al Campbell.

Polio Cases Off 25 Percent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6 (AP) — The United States reported 29,270 cases of polio during 1955, a drop of about 25 per cent over the 38,740 listed in 1954.

Announcing this yesterday, the Public Health Service credited the use of Salk antipolio vaccine with about one-fourth of the decrease.

The 1955 total was the lowest since 1951, when there were 28,386 cases.

Parish Makes Report On Flood Relief

A COMPLETE report of St. Matthew's Parish's role in giving financial aid to those stricken by the flood was released yesterday in its financial report for the year 1955 by Rev. Harold Durkin, pastor.

The sum of $17,000 was received from various Catholic Bishops throughout the country through most Rev. Jerome D. Hannan, bishop of Scranton. Of this sum, $3,000 was labeled for repair of St. John's Mission Church, Bushkill, damaged by the flood; $14,000 for aid to stricken families; $5,631.25 was donated by 21 Catholic parishes of the Scranton Diocese for aid to stricken families. St. Matthew's Parish collected $2,883.89, one-half of which was designated for the repair of the Bushkill Mission Church. The total receipts for flood relief were $25,515.14. The expenditures of the flood receipts were as follows:

American Red Cross, $2,000; East Stroudsburg Flood Relief Fund, $1,000.00; repair of St. John's Mission Church, $4,441.94, and for victims of the flood in the Stroudsburgs, $18,073.20.

Elks Lodge To Conduct Two Dances

PLANS FOR special entertainment were discussed by the East Stroudsburg lodge of Elks at this week's meeting. The well attended session was presided over by M. Russell Imbt Jr., exalted ruler. There will be dances at the home the second and fourth Saturday nights of the month, Jan. 14 and 28. Bill Fisher's orchestra will furnish the music from 10 p. m. to 2 a. m. Arthur Kitzman's entertainment committee will be in charge.

The esteemed leading knight, Fred H. Rhodes, chairman of the lodge charity committee, gave a complete report on the distribution of clothing and shoes for children 5 to 11 years of age Dec. 18. There were 471 cared for, 266 boys and 205 girls. The funds were furnished by the grand and state bodies and many lodges throughout the state.

Action On Member
A proposition for membership was received and favorable action was taken on another. Announcement was made there will be entertainment following the Jan. 19 meeting.

Rehabilitation of the home, badly damaged by the flood last August, have been practically completed. Retarded delivery of material for the bowling alleys has held up the job. The alleys are expected to be ready for use again by the middle of the month, officers said.

Announcement was made the bloodmobile will be at the home next Tuesday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. and support of the project by members was urged.

Seal Sales Now Total $10,352.53

SETTLEMENTS FOR Christmas Seals mailed by Monroe County Tuberculosis and Health Society shot up to $116 yesterday, making total cash returns $10,352.53 against a $12,500 budget.

This week to date $442.51 in settlements have been made, cutting down the number of persons who have made no settlement for seals to about 2,400.

The influx of returns by mail and those made in person at TB headquarters, 621 Sarah St., result from "we're on the spot" reminder letters.

It is expected these settlements will continue for the next several days — at least for a period prior to the board of directors meeting of the TB Society when final plans will be made for a February x-ray project for industry and others in the county.

100 Papers Filed At County Office

THE REGISTER and recorder's office momentarily got swamped with work yesterday.

The Community Telephone Co., serving the western end of Monroe County, filed at one clip 100 rights-of-way.

It was the largest batch of papers ever filed at one time in the memory of Deputy Register and Recorder Kathryn Bush.

Miss Bush said filing of some of the papers had to be temporarily held up because of a shortage of penny documentary stamps.

It takes a GIANT...

It takes a giant to develop the massive amounts of power today's production requires.

But it takes no less a giant to generate the sales power your advertising requires. When it comes to sales power, the newspaper stands like a solitary giant—a giant who lives in every town.

Newspaper circulation is at an all-time high. Over 55,000,000 newspapers are bought daily. No matter what you sell, you'll be able to sell it faster with newspapers.

Last year advertisers spent $2,695,000,000 in newspapers—more than they spent in radio, TV, magazines and outdoor combined!

Today, every selling job is a giant selling job. Use a giant to do that job. Use the newspaper!

All business is local... and so are all newspapers.
